SOJOURN

"To dream anything you want to dream — that is the beauty of the human mind.
To do anything you want to do — that is the strength of the human will.
To trust yourself to test your limits — that is the courage to succeed."

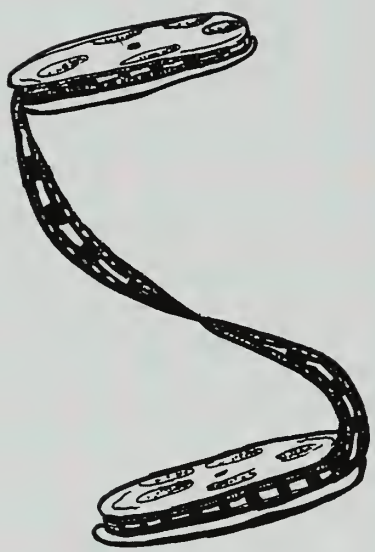
On the morning of September 11, 2001, a national tragedy deeply touched the hearts of all Americans. A series of horrifying terrorist acts shattered the peace and prosperity enjoyed by the United States of America. The catastrophic events changed the lives of all Americans. This year's edition of Sojourn is dedicated to those who perished in the attack, those who survived the horror, and those who devoted countless hours and boundless energy to seemingly insurmountable obstacles as rescuers. These individuals sacrificed and risked their lives to preserve freedom, the foundation of American spirit. These events and those citizens have proved our great nation to be truly indivisible.

To . . .

At approximately 8:46 on the morning of September 11, Norton High students were involved in their first period classes as the first terrorist act occurred in New York City. As international divisions deepened in the weeks following the tragic event, a sense of unity and the motivation to contribute emerged among students at Norton High School, especially among seniors who realized they would soon be graduating into a world unlike any they had known in the past. Committees organized a system of donation collections in each homeroom, a raffle for New England Patriots tickets, a Homecoming Dance, and a bake sale. Art Students used their talents to create displays of patriotism throughout the community. To date Norton students have raised over $2,500 for the rebuilding of New York City and Washington, D.C. and fundraising events are ongoing. The outstanding compassion and pride displayed nationwide in the wake of September 11 has proven that "united we stand" and always will stand, in upholding "liberty and justice for all."

Most of the individual sections of a yearbook are relatively easy to put together. They have a very organized and thematic way of being arranged. But the real question came when we had to decide upon a theme. This year, we decided we would unite the yearbook through a medium that has united and entertained people for many years. Through movies and the lights and glamour of Hollywood, our yearbook has become one, has been crafted into our own movie, with Norton High School as our backdrop. After receiving several poems from the senior class, we have decided to use Lindsey Scarpetti's poem as an opening for the book, as it captures the idea and the theme of our yearbook.

Featuring — Us!



We walked onto the bus on our first day of school,
To make our kindergarten debut.
Now the years have flown as the film continues to play.
Memories have come and gone with moments shared with friends, laughter and tears play on as years pass on to their ends.
Now we are famous actors and actresses before your very eyes.
Our feature presentation, as you will see,
is full of smiles, talent, and emotion, but still some insecurity.
Thirteen years have passed by so fast, memories left behind but meant to last.
Now we stand before you in our caps and gowns,
waiting to go our separate ways to new cities and towns.
To make our next debut, but now we finally say,
"So this is it — today we are the stars, on this, our Graduation Day!"

So now, sit back, relax,
And enjoy the show!

And of course, every production needs a medical staff . . .

Like the members of all productions, the cast and crew of Norton High School needs a good medical support team. This year Mrs. Amy Linde was a new and welcome addition to the Norton High production. Healing our wounds and soothing our fevers, she helped keep our production on an even (and healthy) keel.

There were many other new faces at Norton High this year. The enthusiasm and dedication of the new members gave a new spirit and life to Norton High.

Out With The Old

Each year, a select handful of teachers are chosen for the distinction of receiving Lifetime Achievement Awards. The Norton High School Yearbook staff has the pleasure of announcing that this year's honorees include Ms. Jane Clancy, Mrs. Elaine Reddy, and Mrs. Lorna Russell.

A perfectionist by nature, Ms. Clancy encouraged her students to work hard and not accept anything less than what their full potential would permit them to create for more than thirty years. Through organizing innovative lesson plans and methods of teaching, she never failed in instilling her passion for English in each of the students who sat in her classroom. A valued advisor for the Norton High School Yearbook Staff for many years and a constant supporter of the school's dramatic performances, Ms. Clancy has proved that her naturally artistic and creative nature provided countless outlets for student expression.

Mrs. Elaine Reddy, another treasured member of Norton High School's English department, also encouraged students to use their imagination whenever possible. In fact, many of her students clearly remember her asking them to imagine that her windowless classroom actually contained an expansive glass to view the exciting outside world. Known for her calm manner and soothing speaking voice during her twenty years here, Mrs. Reddy provided a comfortable environment in which her students learned without fear of having their ideas rejected.

Striving to teach her students not only about the French language and culture, but about the beauty of life itself, Mrs. Lorna Russell, another thirty veteran, has earned the respect of the entire staff and student body of Norton High School. By bringing her own unique experiences into the classroom, she has proved that she will never lose her youthful spirit. Mrs. Russell has been kind enough to welcome her French IV students into her home and look out for them as if they were her own children. Displaying her versatility, Mrs. Russell has stepped out of the classroom and devoted her time to accompanying the chorus on the piano during numerous concerts and composing the music for our memorable play "Snoopy".

Charismatic and dedicated, these extraordinary teachers will be sorely missed when they leave the Norton High School at the conclusion of this year. Their fellow teachers and students are all certain, however, that they will continue to share their gifts with others in their community.

The Extras

Class advisors Mrs. Ito and Mrs. Linde led the extras from a confused start to a confident role in our school. President Stacey Gomes, Vice President Hannah Kelly, Secretary Nicole Feldman, Treasurer Mark Lutz, and Student Council Representatives James Falzone and KatieTessitore reminded their fellow classmates of the importance of class dues through an impressive presentation. These students, after a successful first year, will move on to their sophomore year in search of the spotlight.

Yearbook

Katie Schreiber writes down all the creative ideas thought up by the staff.

Dedication, versatility, and self-motivation are all qualities which members of the Yearbook Staff rely on while working to achieve the goals set by the numerous deadlines which fall throughout the year. Whether by staying after school until 4:00 or through committing to work over holiday vacations, members of this staff have learned the true meaning of self-sacrifice. Frantically running around the school to take pictures of events and activities, going out into the community to collect advertisements, conducting research on the school's many diverse sports teams and clubs, organizing copy, and creating page layouts have gradually become rituals for staffers of the Sojourn. Kept on task by advisors Ms. Jane Clancy and Ms. Robin Hall, both experienced and novice members of the Yearbook Staff have proven that they can create a fine product with the help of teamwork.

The staff works diligently after school to meet the deadline.

Courtney Klenk has no problem with creating a perfect layout.

Members of the various organizations were asked to give award-winning advice to the future members of those societies. Their answers can be found at the bottom of each page.

Miss Clancy helps Mike Brammer organize a few completed pages.

Katie Schreiber points out a possible mistake.

You can tell that Lisa Harris and Elizabeth Gantz think Yearbook is a blast.

Brandon Bettencourt and Katie Schreiber advise that hard work is the key to success.

Honor

National

This year, the Jean G. Findlater Chapter of the National Honor Society had the pleasure of welcoming 24 new members into its ranks during a formal induction ceremony, which included an inspirational speech delivered by Colonel Robert Perry. With honorary member and admired teacher Mrs. Dolores Robbins seated by their sides, the inductees firmly vowed to uphold the society's ideals. Soon after inductions were held, both veteran and novice National Honor Society members became involved in numerous activities designed to improve their school and community. At the suggestion of advisor Mrs. Jennifer Young, this society's members volunteered their time to make candy bags for the freshmen during the stressful Midterm Week and also became involved in a new peer tutoring program both at the high school and the middle school. President Erin Russell, Vice President Courtney Klenk, Treasurer Brandon Bettencourt, and Secretary Katie Schreiber, coordinated a College Day, which invited members of Norton High School's Class of 2001 to share stories of their college experiences with this year's senior class.

Erin Russell advises that if you keep your focus set on developing every aspect of yourself to its potential, and then surpass these preconceived limits, you can achieve true success and self-satisfaction.

Societies

Leighanne Brammer works diligently on her art project.

Always striving to perceive their surroundings in unique ways, members of Norton High School's Art Honor Society can be commended for the time and effort that they invest in beautifying their environment. Under the guidance of Mrs. Veronica Gagnon, Norton High School's most highly celebrated art students have worked on projects such as decorating pumpkins during Halloween and painting business with winter and patriotic scenes. Five of this society's veteran members, President Jenna Cullinane, Vice President Leighanne Brammer, Treasurer Meghan Potter, and Co-Secretaries Erin Russell and Carolynn Grainger, have also encouraged the development of additional activities such as selling carnations to students and teachers for Valentine's Day. Sharing an intense interest in art, members of this society enjoy getting together at their potluck support and gift swap. Students and teacher alike hope that members of the Art Honor Society will continue to serve their school and community in the future.

Erin Russell thinks, hurry up and take the picture so I can get back to my work!"

Matt Belt smiles as he takes a break from his self-portrait pencil drawing.

Jenna Cullinane advises to never forget about the "artistic seed" that was placed into you. Allow it to continue to grow and blossom until you make the most of your talent.

Spanish

With the guidance of advisor Mrs. Godfrey, the Alonso Quijana chapter of the Spanish Honor Society has had an eventful year spreading the rich culture, language, and history of Spanish-speaking countries throughout Norton High School. With the exceptional leadership of President Rachel Garcia, Vice-President Becky Morrissey, Treasurer Courtney Klenk, and Secretary Katie Schreiber, the society was able to accomplish much this year such as aiding in the planning of the Norton High School semi-formal. Members of the society can be found using their Spanish skills to tutor their peers in the subject as well. In the spring, the society looks forward to a fundraising car wash and a Latin dance extravaganza.

Presdient Justin Etter

Though small in number, the French Honor Society was able to achieve big things under the supervision of adviser Mrs. Penza and the leadership of President Justin Etter, Vice-President Tenara Hruzek, Treasurer Chris Canton, and Secretary Jessica Poole. While assisting in the planning of the semi-formal, selling scented candles, and preparing for inductions of new members, the society also planned a jovial celebration for Mardi Gras. Responsible for making Norton High School students aware of the beauty and tradition of the French Culture the society has been an influential group for many years.

Justin Etter advises, "Always put your best foot forward; don't worry about looking stupid while trying something new or different — it's all a part of learning.

Quill and Scroll

Under the leadership of Mrs. Hensley, the Grace B. Kiernan Chapter of the Quill and Scroll Honor Society reflects the hard work of students involved with the various publications of Norton High. Students work diligently on their respective publications — The Lance, Local Colour, and Sojourn — as they promote interest in writing and publishing throughout the school.

Miss Remick leads her musicians

Norton's long lasting and very successful chapter of the Tri-M Honor Society has had a very productive year. Under the guidance and leadership of advisor Miss Remick, Tri-M members made appearances all over town, performing at both school and town events as well as taking the time to make music a valued and integral part of school life. Furthermore, they continued the recently established tradition of sponsoring a talent show; this year's show on March 1 showed the quality and variety of talent of Norton High students. Through their music and talent, the students of Tri-M constantly strive to prove the point that there is no such thing as language barriers when we all share the beauty of music.

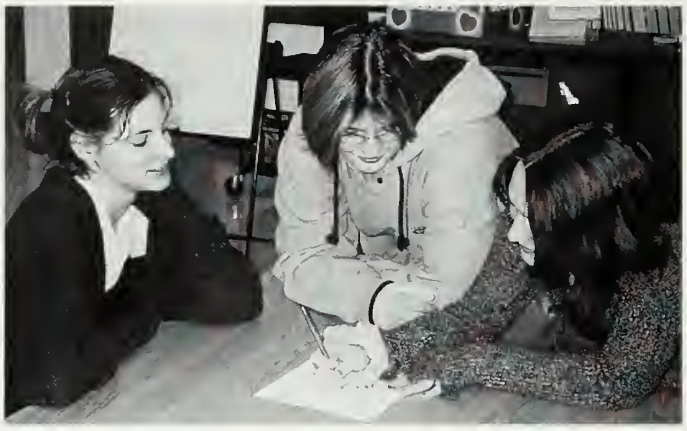
President Jenna Summerfield advises members to "practice and enjoy yourself because music is a wonderful form of expression and entertainment."

Student Council



The members of student council are trying to brainstorm new ideas.

The dedicated members of the Student Council, led by Vice-Principal Frank Jackson, worked hard to make this year one of the most successful. The annual spirit week sponsored by the Student Council once again proved to be a unifying experience for the students of Norton High. President Lindsey Scarpetti and Vice-President Jenna Summerfield acted as great leaders by helping to organize the Santa Drive, where more than $1100 was raised to buy gifts for needy children in the community. All in all, taking part in the Student Council and its various fundraisers and activities proved to be an enjoyable experience.

Best Buddies

The years spent in high school are not simply meant to bring students academic knowledge, they are also designed to instill in young people an understanding of the world around them and the diverse groups of people that inhabit their surroundings. Participants in Norton High School's Best Buddies Program perhaps best understand the valuable life lessons that may be learned during this stage of their lives. Open-minded and always willing to learn new things, Best Buddies ambassadors volunteer to spend time with people who may not be as blessed as they are during their frequent meetings and luncheons. The largest satisfaction that one of these Best Buddies members can receive is found through emerging from a gathering with a better grasp on what is truly important in life than was held when the meeting began.

AMNESTY IN BIBLE STUDIES DIVERSITY

Now for the serious side of Norton High School. Various students participate in the following organizations: Amnesty International, Bible Studies, Diversity Alliance, and Environment Club. They have joined to broaden their knowledge and excel in their chosen goal. In Amnesty International, the students try to aid in helping third world countries in need. They petition and work for bettering mankind. Bible Studies focuses on the true meaning of religion. Diversity Alliance celebrates the unique in all of their members and of the world. Each member proudly displays his or her individuality. Finally is the Environment club, in which the main goal is to nurture the earth and educate people about participating in preserving what we as humans have. Each organization is special in what it does and will do for the growth of our society.

Pep Club

In their support of the football team, the Pep Club planned and organized the pep rally and bonfire. As usual, the seniors were victorious in the annual wall-decorating contest, where each grade level creatively designs a wall in the gym. The dance-off, too, was a huge hit at the pep rally, as the girls' soccer team displayed a first-place performance to a rendition of "I Love Rock & Roll." Hosted by Jessica Martin and Michael Brammer, the pep rally was an incredible success! Thanks to the dedicated members of the Pep Club, spirit, fun, and lots of laughs were shared by all in attendance.

The Norton Competition Majorettes competed in seven consecutive Sundays this spring. The Open division, competing at the highest level in high school competition, placed in the top four positions each week, including a 1st place win at the Apponequet Competition for the first time. These young women practice twice a week from October to April. This year's theme, the "X-men", took on a more dramatic flavor than in year's past, and the Open squad seemed to welcome the challenge. The girls work and practice hard, all while uniting in one cause: to represent the Norton School System in a proud fashion. Congratulations, girls!

With an amazing year of music, fun, and festivities, the Norton High School concert band provided classic entertainment for ceremonies inside and outside the school. They gathered and provided music for such occasions as a Holiday Concert and a combined induction of the Honor Societies. Each member of the concert band has worked hard and mastered his instrument to provide others with quality music. This year, the group included a wide variety of participants, ranging from the freshman class all the way up to four year, veteran seniors. The whole ensemble, under Miss Remick, the band coordinator and conductor, has put many hours and a great deal of time into making other events that much better!

During one of their rehearsals, Seth Farrell, Michael Brammer, Christine Mathias and Katie Maginness rehearse their own version of a little "heavy metal".

Jenna Summerfield advises that "music is a lot of fun as long as you stay 'tuned'".

MARCHING BAND

Taking the concert band "one step further", Norton High's Marching Band took their music to the road, performing at several school and town events, including the home games for this year's football season. They also went on to perform at the Holiday Parade, and in full custume (including their red and white hats) carried on the season spirit through music. Under the direction of Miss Remick, the marching band has proven that without music, most events just wouldn't have that same high note.

The band gathers to rehearse under the watchful care and guidance of Miss Remick.

Singing a happy song, the Norton High School chorus provides the lyrics to the music to create a song. With the help of this year's new chorus teacher, Miss Comperchio, the Norton High School chorus tuned their vocal instruments and championed the addition of voice to music. The chorus has always had a reputation for providing a mix of many different sounds, and this year they proved it true, with a mix of voices from soprano to bass and then back again.

Above: "Whoever said you can't laugh and sing at the same time?" thinks Johannah O'Connell.
Below: Members of the chorus gather together to rehearse and to make sure their voices are "in tune".

"Girls just wanna have fun!" sing Lindsey Scarpetti and Johannah O'Connell.

Lindsey Scarpetti advises that "It's better to have loved and lost, than to never have loved at all: Just remember that music is the key to anyone's heart."

PEER LEADERS

The Norton High School Peer Leaders are a group of students who have gathered to better their surroundings, both inside and outside the school. Led by Miss Motyl and Miss Cardoza, the peer leaders volunteered their time to help younger children in the public schools read, attended a conference of SADD, and also sponsored this years "Big Picture", shown to all four grades in the school. The peer leaders also donated their time and effort to paint windows, along with the Art Honor Society, to raise money for charity. The peer leaders have worked to make school and town a dependable part of student life and hope to continue to do so far in the future.

The Lance

Developing their journalistic talents, staff members of The Lance, Norton High School's newspaper, gain experience in performing a variety of tasks. Some members of The Lance staff opt to serve as reporters through gathering information and conducting interviews. Other aspiring journalists enjoy experimenting with creating new layouts for different installments of the paper. Whatever task they choose to perform, however, leads staff members closer to an understanding of how a professional newspaper is operated.

Drama

Chess and Games

The Norton High School Drama Club was especially entertaining this year with the production of "Snoopy!!! The Musical." A compilation of several key moments in the series of Charles Schulz, the play focused on the world through the eyes of Snoopy. Through the efforts of Mr. Miller, the cast and crew, and the talented pianist, Mrs. Russell, "Snoopy!!! The Musical" proved to be a success.

Sheila Mulherin of the TV/Media Club suggests to "always smile because you never know when a camera might show up."

Math Team

Seeking explanations and exploring the world of mathematics, the members of the Norton High School Math Team dedicate their time to solving problems that may seem incomprehensible to others. These students travel to different schools to test their mathematical abilities against students of similar interests. Winning matches and expanding their intellect is what keeps these students motivated and interested in broadening their horizons!

On a beautiful May night, the stars of Norton High School arrived in style at the Canoe Club in West Bridgewater for the 2001 Junior-Senior prom. Planned by the junior class, the prom was a groundbreaking success, with a delectable meal, a picturesque setting, and an inviting dance floor. The theme, "Waiting for You," reminded the stars that, although their high school performance was coming to a close, the friendships made and bonds created would remain. Prom king and queen, Rob Leathers and Beth Lombard, stole the spotlight for a royal dance near the end of the night. An enchanting night of tears and laughter, the 2001 prom was a night to remember for all.

Without Limits

Prepped for this fall's cross-country season, Lancer runners did very well considering the size of the team. With only a little over a dozen runners, the team, led by senior co-captains Courtney Klenk and Jeremiah Vigue and Coach Rukstalis, showed great improvement with the progression of the season. League All-Stars Courtney Klenk, Sheila Mulherin, and Nick Muller had extraordinary seasons. Courtney Klenk, a zealous and loyal runner, placed a stunning third in the league meet and ran exceptionally well in both the SSPM and State Meet. Named a League, Sun Chronicle, and Taunton Gazette All-Star, Courtney had a very impressive season. Similarly outstanding, Sun Chronicle All-Star Sheila Mulherin finished eighth in the league meet, and continued her success in the SSPM and State Meet. Freshman, Nick Muller, proved himself a promising asset to the Lancer cross-country team in years to come. Placing eleventh in the league meet, Nick's phenomenal season proves him to be an upcoming cross-country star. All members, including manager Samantha Martin, devoted a remarkable amount of time and energy to the team this season.

Any Given Sunday

There's no doubt that the 2001 Football Season kept Norton's most loyal fans thoroughly entertained. Providing drama, comedy, excitement, and thrills, the team's players strove toward achieving excellence. Their success was definitely contributed to by captains Steve Perreault, Jeremy Silva, and Justin Etter, who also received recognition as an All-Star.

Bring It On

Constantly energetic, the cheerleaders drove the members of Norton's football team to rise from the ranks of amateurs to polished stars. With coach Lauralee Maddix and captains Meghan O'Donnell and Amy O'Sullivan to guide them, the cheerleaders also enjoyed their own time in the spotlight, which came as a result of their hard work and dedication. Shining in the face of pressure, the girls were named the South Shore League fall cheering champions of 2001 and returned to their hometown to the delight of their most faithful fans.

The Big Purple

Stealing the show, this fall, the Norton Lancer boys' soccer team captivated audiences with a groundbreaking 16-3-2 season. Under the guidance of Coach Ed Smith and senior tri-captains Mike Brammer, Billy Foley, and Dan Schepis, the team finished undefeated for the first time ever in the South Shore League with an amazing ten shutouts during the regular season. In a suspenseful game, the boys beat the normally formidable Norwell, for the first time ever, with a 4-0 win to become the South Shore League Champions for the very first time in Norton High School athletic history. Entering the tournament seeded second, the boys advanced to the 3rd round of play. Unfortunately, the boys were defeated in an intense game against Ashland. However, with an inspiring, record-breaking year, the boys have everything to be proud of. Needless to say, this fall's amazing season leaves seniors Mike Brammer, Billy Foley, Dan Schepis, Pete Brooks, and Andy Martin, Donny Myers, Mike Navedo, and Justin Warren with something to remember.

Ladybugs

Running all over the field and making their last goals of their high school careers, co-captains Leighanne Brammer, Tiffany Knight, Meghan Malloy, and Meghan Potter led this year's girls' soccer team through a remarkable year. With the support of coach and former Norton High School student, Shelby Martel, the girls finished with 5 wins, 7 losses, and 6 ties qualifying them for the state tournament. This year's All Stars were seniors Roxanne Coffey and Tiffany Knight, but this did not set them apart from the other girls. On the field and off, the girls' soccer team at Norton is a sisterhood and a bond that none of the girls will ever forget.

Golf matches became highly anticipated events in 2001, especially considering the appeal of the Norton team. Coach John Kieser encouraged captains Steve Ohlson and Tim Salvolainen to explore thelengths of their talents. Under such brilliant leadership, the golf team reached new levels of achievement. Spotlights also fell upon Josh Jolly, who brought honor and distinction to the entire team by gaining the coveted All-Star status.

Sideout

The girls' volleyball team saw a combination of individual performances and unified team effort. All Stars Jenna Cullinane and Amanda Levesque led this year's heated volleyball season with the support of Coach Peter Leddy. In competing in the Pilgrim Conference League, the girls finished the season with 14 wins and only 4 losses. They also participated in this year's Division III South Sectional Semi-Finals. Junior Rachel Regan was chosen as one of the Taunton Gazette All Stars. In a conversation earlier this year, Jenna Cullinane commented that all the girls on the volleyball team this year became more than just friends, but more like sisters.

Ready, Set, Go

After an exhilarating season, Coach Smith's Norton High School boys' Winter Track Team emerged victorious, having defeated some of the league's toughest competitors. Motivated and determined, members of this team provided each other with constant support and encouragement. Teamwork and discipline, two factors which contributed greatly to the season's success, proved to be valuable tools in overcoming opponents. Achieving distinction among the team's ranks were Andy Martin and Dan Shepis, both of whom were elected to go to the All-State Competition after establishing themselves as top athletes in the Class D of their league.

To the Edge

Having made unprecedented accomplishments, members of Coach Hudson's Girls' Winter Track Team should certainly be proud of the results of their efforts. In the process of capturing victories over highly competitive teams hailing from East Bridgewater, Duxbury, and Middleboro, team members also succeeded in breaking school records for their sport. Meghan O'Donnell, with a total of 76.25 points, not only set a team record for receiving the most points in a single season but also for astonishing achievements in the high jump and long jump categories. Her teammate Kristen Hurd also broke the team record in the 300-meter race. O'Donnell, Hurd, and their colleagues Shannon Martin and Alicia Hurd composed the 4x400M relay team which finished the dual meet season in the top position for their league.

Boys' Basketball

The Norton High School Boys' Basketball Team took it to the hoop this season, finishing at 10-10. Led by captains Billy Foley and Michael Navedo, and new Coach Marc Liberatore, the boys pulled through with big wins against Fairhaven and Mansfield. The deciding factor as to whether or not the boys would make it to the tournament came in a critical win against Hull, with the final score being 70-30. Late night practices and a tough schedule kept these superstars on their toes.

Girls' Basketball

She Got Game

The Norton Lancers Girls' Basketball Team finished their last season in the South Shore League at 8-12, just missing the tournament. With the dedicated coaching of Mr. Dave Mollica, Miss Julie Dion, and Mr. Tim Blake, the Lancers fought hard in every game right up to the final buzzer. The team, consisting of no seniors, displayed teamwork and determination resulting in several significant wins such as their 60-50 defeat over Cohasset. Coach Mollica and the Lancers believe that this season provided the necessary preparation for next season's entrance into the Tri-Valley League.

Field of Dreams

It's the championship game! In the stands are the fans of the Norton Lancer boys' baseball team with their fingers crossed and breath held, and then the final inning is over. The 2000-2001 season ended with the Lancers on top. With the support of Coach David Mollica and Co-Captains Tim Laconte and Troy Bouchard, the baseball team won the South Shore League Championship ending the season with a 17-4 record. South Shore League All Stars Tim Laconte, Troy Bouchard, Jim Norcott, Matt Dudley, Justin Warren, Bill Foley, and Josh Jolly provided the team with outstanding fielding, slugging perfection, and powerful pitching. The baseball team had one of the most successful years in Norton High School history

A League of Their Own

Enjoying a highly successful season, the softball team became a main attraction in 2001 as Coach Gibson transformed the girls under his supervision into players with skills that rivaled those of professionals. Several members of the team received unprecedented reviews on their personal performances as well. Remaining humble, however, All-Stars Rachel Regan, Rebecca Regan, and Maggie Spazziano refused to let their new-found fame interfere with their dynamic plays. Captains Cindy Ravinski and Maggie Spazziano also became favorites of the Norton fans.

Prefontaine

The spotlight was on the Norton Lancer boys' 2001 track team this spring, whose 4-3 overall record speaks for itself. The leadership of Andy Martin and Dan Schepis pushed the team to its physical limits and encouraged improvement in each and every player. Having endured strenuous practices, the progress of the entire team was evident. In fact, League All-Stars Dave Glassman, Steve Walasavage, and Dan Schepis were honored for making great strides athletically. Through perseverance and hard work, the team was able to boast a winning season and looks forward to others in years to come.

GIRLS' TRACK

Fast Times at Norton High

Featuring many devoted young women in Lancer track and field, Norton High School girls' spring track team made great progress last season. Coach Mark Hudson directed the team throughout the 2-6 season, while co-captains Meghan Malloy and Megan Orlando upheld the integrity and morale of Norton High School's female track stars. Improvement was apparent as the season progressed, and from the practice and encouragement emerged League All-Stars Megan O'Donnell and Elise Pompei. The hard work and enthusiasm expressed this season proved the stars of the girls track team to be serious and dedicated athletes.

Meghan Malloy plants her feet in the sand and hopes to beat her record.

BOYS' TENNIS

For the "Love" of the Game

Suspense builds as the tennis ball bounces from racket to racket and courtside to courtside, but the boys of the Norton High School tennis team handle that pressure with smashing ease. The boys' tennis team of the first season of the Millennium left streaks all over the court as they hustled around to make that winning point. With the support of Coach Bill Kusmitch and Co-Captains Ben Guigas and Joe Cummings, the boys put their best serving foot forward ending the season with a 4-14 record. Although the team did not come out on top, they tried their best and looked forward to the next season.

Set Point

Although small in number, the ensemble cast of the Girls' Tennis team was comprised of some of the sport's most celebrated performers. With the eyes of eager supporters watching their every move, the cast members always discovered new ways to make their fans proud. In fact, captains Jessica Barbour and Michelle Tucker sometimes found it difficult to avoid members of the press desperate to take photographs of them. Even in the tense situations, however, it was evident that Coach Clark taught them how to maintain their graceful composure.

Seniors: Kate Perry, Jessica Barbour, Michelle Tucker, and Sarah Belkner.

What is Mark Lutz looking at?

As the curtain opened in September, a new recruitment of extras arrived on the scene ready to accomplish any task they might encounter. On screen, the class of 2005, not only tackled the freshman class load, but also had to adjust to the maturity of high school freedoms. Behind the scenes, the extras rejoiced in the discoveries of various clubs and teams. The class of 2005 had the pleasure of holding key positions and joining in the hustle of their favorite clubs.

John, Eric, and John concentrate intently on their work.

Jennifer never knew that high school could be so amusing.

Chatting with the Understudies

Do you know something we don't know, Todd?

Did we surprise you Jeff?

Coy is amused by Jay's nap, but continues to pay attention in class.

In the beginning, the understudies prepared for the roles they would play in the upcoming year. From the Snowball to the academic challenges, they followed the script as it pertained to their sophomore year. Having already molded themselves to the high school lifestyle, they prepared for full year of dissections and geometric shapes. Now they have finished studying their scripts and are moving on to bigger and better roles.

Katie and John stop their lunch for a quick pic.

Chatting With the Juniors

With the spotlight within their reach, this year's supporting actors entered their most frustrating yet rewarding year of high school. The class of 2003 earned many privileges throughout the year. Some of the supporting actors received the honor of joining AP level courses on the screen, while several others obtained the glory of being a licensed driver behind the scenes. With their heads held high, the supporting actors prepared themselves for the starring role awaiting them in the feature.

Sports

For the stars of Norton High School's athletic teams, there is no time for intermission while providing audiences with endless entertainment. With rigorous daily practices and challenging games, Norton athletes devote a great deal of time and energy to representing the spirit and perseverance of the school. Whether swinging a club, scoring a goal, making a touchdown, serving a volleyball, crossing a finish line, shooting a basket, hitting a homerun, or rallying a crowd, the Lancers never fail to give an exceptional performance.

Walking the

Dances

Dressed to the nines, the cast confidently strolls down the red carpet, much to the delight of spectators eager to catch a glimpse of the stars' glamorous styles. Making the New York City Benefit Homecoming Dance, Semi-Formal, the Snowball Dance, and the Prom some of the year's most high-profile events, the cast grabs headlines as it proves its talent and energy out on the dance floor. Of course, the stars never let their own good times interfere with their commitments to their fans, so they have no problem stopping to pose for close-ups. After all, they each deserve a turn in the spotlight!

Anxious to escape the pressures of their celebrity status, Caitlyn Orlando and Mark Dunn dance the night away.

Rob Leathers and Beth Lombard, the Prom King and Queen, show the crowd how to "bust a move".

Red Carpet

Right: Trying to capture the moment Joe Birkett and Nicole Viola will always remember this dance. Above: Any photographer would consider it an honor to snap a picture of these three famous beauties: Kate Barney, Kate Murphy, and Shannon Martin.

Taking a break from working the dance floor, Amy O'Sullivan and Jolene Mach flash their famous smiles for the photographer.

The court, Jamie Crawford, Alisha Iddings, Anh-Dao Nguyen, and Candice Muller all pose for a picture.

Behind the

Academics

Some of Norton High School's best performances take place behind the scenes. Norton students know that there is no room for outtakes academically! The enthusiasm of the crew, also known as the faculty, allows Norton's stars to release creativity in projects, express views in papers, and test knowledge in exams. A panoramic view of academic life here would include aesthetic masterpieces, entrancing melodies, literary expeditions, accents of romance, historical reflections, mounting calculations, and explosive discoveries.

The Scenes of Our Lives

As the scenes of our lives unfold,
There are times we will never forget.
To think that we have finally heard
The sound of our last bell.
As we depart from these familiar halls,
We leave not only full of knowledge and wisdom,
But with an array of fond memories.
For the remainder of our lives,
We will reminisce about our "good old days"
With images of Norton playgrounds and classrooms
Dancing through our minds.
These years will provide moments of laughter and joy
And stories to tell future generations.
At times it seemed we were merely trudging along.
But no matter the obstacle or the difficulty,
The friends we've made along the way
Were there to care and comfort.
So many memories flash before us
As we walk across this stage
Towards a life unknown.
So as the curtain falls on our high school days,
We proudly venture onward,
Full of memories
That will never be forgotten.
And no matter how far apart we become,
The lives of the Class, our class, of 2002
Will always be intertwined.

Thank you, Dear God, for blessing me with: Katie, whose wealth of knowledge has taught me so many lessons; Courtney, whose love of life astounds me; Erin, whose determination and head-strong manner are an inspiration; Sam, whose eyes and heart never stop exploring the world around her; Brandon, who has been my "Other Half" since kindergarten; Keith, who is truly my spiritual guide; Riverside, without which I may have my talent, but I would certainly not have my passion; and Mom, Dad, Nana, who hold the keys to my past, my present, and my future.

SUPERLATIVE COPY

On the set of Norton High School, it is quite clear that the Cast of 2002 is working hard to make their senior year a blockbuster. Directing the action on the set, Courtney Klenk and Brandon Bettencourt are running the show with great finesse and success, having been voted "Most Likely to Become Movie Producer". With their clever quips and intriguing information, "Future Oscar Hosts" Jessie Martin and Jeff Fischer are busy emceeing a number of Norton High School's entertaining events. Also captivating the rest of the Cast of 2002 with outstanding dramatic performances, Lesley Dean and Mike Galloway have been deemed "Best Actress" and "Best Actor" at Norton High School. In addition, Amy Turner and Dan Collier work diligently creating masterpieces to perfect the aesthetic set of Norton High School. Luckily, fashionable stars Tenara Hruzek, Lenny Marovelli, and Brian Nunes, who impress all with their stunning personal style, are setting the style standard for the rest of the cast as "Costume Designers." Causing uproarious laughter among the rest of the Cast of 2002, class comedians Kim Karol and Jay Salim provide everyone with humorous and lighthearted wit. Above the hustle and bustle of Norton High School, the powerful, yet melodious voices of Johannah O'Connell and Mike Galloway astound the crowds, who will surely attend the theatrical performances of the two talented future Broadway entertainers.

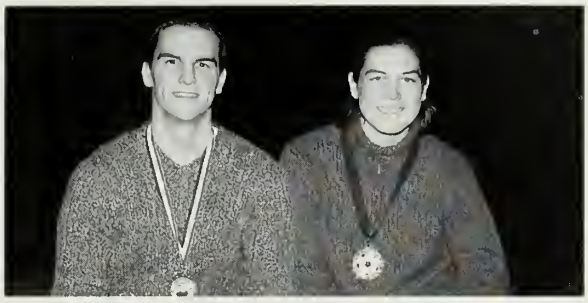
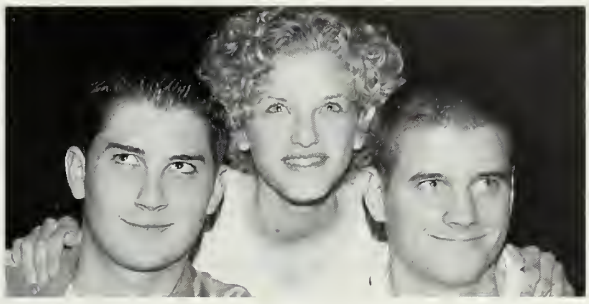
Winners Are . . .

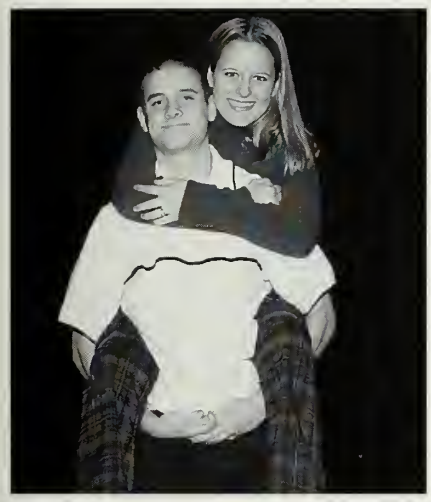
Leighanne Brammer



Billy Foley and Meghan Malloy



Ryan Besch, Rachel Garcia and Mike Brammer



Mike and Leighanne Brammer

It is evident by their staggering victory in the "Best Personality" category that stars Leighanne and Mike Brammer are distinguished for their close relationship with their fans, who are sure to continue their unfailing support. The race for a win in the "Most Unique Laugh" category was also easily swept by Catie Barros and Billy Foley, both of whom are certain to delight movie-goers for years to come with their characteristic joyful expressions. Always versatile both on — and off-screen, Nicole Lizio and Mike Medeiros made their mark on the Cast of 2002 by capturing the award for the "Actor Most Changed Since a Film Debut". Awarding the "Best Smile" trophies to Leighanne Brammer and Joe Burke, the Academy obviously expects these two young celebrities to grace movie screens with their famous grins in many future films. The dramatic looks of Rachel Garcia, Matt Besch, and Mike Brammer earned them each the award for "Best Eyes". The spotlight also fell upon Crystal Green, Amy Saccoccio, and Pete Brooks, who were selected as the actors "Most Likely to Arrive on the Set After 7:15 A.M". Best known for their roles in action films, Meghan Malloy and Billy Foley were given the award in the "Future Gold Medalist" category. Always available for interviews and promotional events, Amy O'Sullivan and Brandon Bettencourt appropriately claimed the award for "Best Spirit". These two actors are both extremely dedicated to their work and their fellow film-makers.

Coming Attractions

For The Class of 2002

After pages and pages reflecting on the past four years of our lives, a question of the future arises. What is in store for the Cast of 2002 in years to come? Maybe one of us will be a movie star, a rock star, or even the President of the United States. Anything is possible. Based on the forms our classmates filled out earlier this year, the following predictions have been made ...

Considering the amount of entertaining that goes on at Norton High, it is quite possible that some of us will be doing so on a larger scale in the future. Maybe Steve Ohlson and Mike Purpura will compose and perform a top 20 hit. But the two talented musicians may have to share the glory of success in the music business with Alicia Bell. Perhaps the airwaves will be dominated by the broadcasts, either radio or television oriented, of in-demand personality, Valerie Higgins. On the other side of the communication spectrum, future journalists Erin Russell and Rafael Sanchez Anibal-Alvarez may be continuing coverage with articles and editorials concerning various events. Similarly, our talented artists of today have the potential to be entertaining many tomorrow. Maybe Meghan Shannon's appealing illustrations in children's books will be seen on the bestseller list. In Boston, Patrycia Mitura will attract a fan club of her own with comic books that she will not only be illustrating, but also writing. Saturday mornings may never be the same when Kim Nowe's phenomenal cartoon animations enter the entertainment scene. Also adding interest to the world around us in years to come, Sara Hebard and Katie Denson may be building a successful and fulfilling career with their obvious art talent. On another, but supremely important, level of show biz, some stars of the Cast of 2002 might be occupied entertaining the taste buds of many with delectable dishes and tasty treats. Not only will Sam DelArroyo be creating culinary masterpieces in the kitchen, but she may also own a restaurant of her own, accepting the business responsibilities as well. Meanwhile, Robyn Luongo may be whipping up innovative cuisine in an aesthetically pleasing manner. Perhaps Scott Morton will also be providing millions with a mouth-watering and unforgettable dining experience.

While many of us will be involved in the entertainment industry, many of us may be preserving the order, honor, and glory of our great nation. Perhaps John Broderick and Jason Rudy will be in their cruisers patrolling the state as members of the Massachusetts State Police. Meanwhile, potential army police Dan Schepis and Sean Kelly will be awaiting specific government orders on how they will protect and serve. In addition, Shane Azevedo and Tommy Weir might be officials in the field of law enforcement as well. Protecting our beloved country and preserving our cherished freedom, Ariel Hart, Amanda Levesque, Ryan Angus, and Kevin Billman may be performing acts of bravery by serving in the United States military. Probably unarmed, unlike the former students, but still upholding the law, Sarah Simon may be preserving the honor of our nation's Constitution in the courtroom as a lawyer.

With aspirations of monetary success and fulfilling a passion, many members of the Cast of 2002 will be starring in demanding careers concerning the sciences, whether it be computer science, natural science, or social science. Eddie Clare and Jarod Masse might be cracking codes and making strides in the world of computer sciences. Maybe Andy Martin will be programming complex computer software. Future Bill Gates, Mike Hebner, may also be making innovative computer programs. In the field of biology, it is possible that Jenna Cullinane will be making great and life-altering advancements in the future. While Jessica Poole may be dealing with the biological study of animals, Beth Bossardt may be closely attending the needs and general care of zoo-dwelling animals. Future pediatricians Kim Chung and Justin Etter might be entertaining their young patients with careful humor and first-rate medical care. Perhaps Jenn Palmisciano could even provide her amazing nursing skills and innate sense of humor as a nurse to the two doctors. Also dealing with children, though on a level classified as social science, Meghan Potter might be introducing her young pupils to the entertaining world of academics. Also teaching the youth of America, Tiffany Knight and Meghan O'Donnell might be responsible for the growth, both scholastically and personally, of hundreds of children. Reaching a helping hand out to the community, Nikki Ledbetter may be using her innately philanthropic attitude to enhance her career as a social worker. Similarly, many members of the Cast of 2002, like Stacy Norton, Chris DeNicola, and Roxanne Coffey, might be lending their ears and opening their hearts and minds as psychologists. Maybe Sam Martin and Nicole Desrochers will each have successful practices in psychology in the future. Mediating any conflict as a professional counselor, Becky Morrissey might be offering helpful, but not intrusive, advice to maintain peaceful human relationships.

Some members of the senior class, such as Zack Kiley and Joe Freni, may be moving up the corporate ladder with great ease and success. Perhaps Kelly Gallagher will be purchasing a latte while walking the city streets to her career as a big business executive. Also enjoying the thrill of urban life, Tina Olson may be working an important executive position in years to come. Traveling from continent to continent, Katie Schreiber may be using her sophisticated business skills to seize the interest of prosperous investors worldwide. Likewise, Jenna Summerfield may be applying her acquired knowledge to her career in international business and relations. However, Hortensia Mitura may be using her many dramatic talents in her pursuit of success. Perhaps Missy Tong will incorporate her modeling expertise into her future thriving profession. Steve Grimmett, Tim Precourt, Justin Warren, Jimmy Whetmore, Barbara Lake, Hollie Favaro, and Donny Myers may be enjoying the satisfaction of professional success in the future.

Many members of the class of 2002 look forward to caring for their own little stars someday. Maybe Shannon Salveson, Lindsay Scarpetti, Leanna Schwippert, and Stephanie Soder will achieve the American dream of a three-bedroom house in the country, two children, a loving husband, a dog, and a white picket fence. Adamant about leaving Norton, Jean Thompson may be raising her little ones somewhere in New England. Perhaps Nate Rocha and Jeremiah Vigue will be carrying out the paternal duty of playing catch with their kids while balancing the responsibilities of being a family man. Carolynn Grainger, Sarah Avril, Crystal Claflin, and Jenny Oliviera may also be caring for families. Meanwhile, Marie Nilsson expects to be spending her time relaxing on a beach with her husband.

In addition, many members of the senior class may be entertaining in the future by providing the world with award-winning service. Escaping from the stress of full time jobs, many people will look to a soothing atmosphere for entertainment. Perhaps the therapeutic day spa owned and run by Jessica Roussell and Kerri Capobianco will be just the place for a couple of hours of self-indulgence. Later, one would naturally proceed to Leanne Pereira's hair salon for a stylish cut and color. When any car problem arises, Andrew O'Shea and Steve Perreault may be using their expertise to fix and improve any vehicle. Transporting goods nation-wide, Ken Horton might be trading in his infamous monster truck for an eighteen-wheeler. Perhaps guiding nature-lovers through tree-lined paths, Laura Tornyai may be "in a forest" for years to come.

Clearly, many potential stars of the future are members of the Cast of 2002. Yet, those mentioned are only the portion of the senior class who responded to the survey distributed earlier this year. Imagine the bright futures in store for the remainder of the class! We wish all of our fellow classmates the best of luck in creating their own feature presentations.

Poetic Advice

When seniors submitted poems to be considered for the senior class peom this year, one particular one written by Mike Hoyle, contained advice to his classmates written in rhymed lines. These lines were so good that it led to our asking other seniors for some rhymed advice to their classmates. Here are some of the responses to that request.

In life, as in high school, make good, true friends —
Ones that will always be there in the end.
Sarah Avril

Mature and grow, but not too fast;
Take time to look ahead to your future, and back to your past.
Nicole Neal

Graduation is near, and if the opportunity arises,
Acknowledge everything around you and Let your life be filled with surprises.
Rachel Garcia

No matter where you are, "Love conquers all;"
Keep this in mind, and you'll never fall.
Tenara Hruzek

There will be times when all you feel is pain;
Never forget your strength, or the hurt will always remain.
Shannon Salveson

Remember your old friends for they made you who you are;
But also make new friends who will bring you very far.
Kim Chung

When the time comes to say goodbye,
Try a smile, a wave, and a dryer eye.
Brandon Bettencourt

High school is a right turn onto the path of success,
When you get down that road, you know you've been blessed."
Nate Rocha

Have open ears when words of wisdom have been spoken;
Have an open heart when someone else's has been broken.
Amy Soccoccio

Take with you the advice that others may preach,
And know that no goal is out of your reach.
Becky Morrissey

On an exciting journey into the worlds we will all soon embark,
But it is here, in high school, where you will have left your mark.
Leighanne Brammer

Remember when dealing with others, never categorize
Or you'll be the one who is smaller in size.
Jason Salim

Don't look back to what you left behind;
Turn around to see what else there is to find.
Zachary Kiley

Thank those who helped you in a time of need,
And thank those who taught you how to read.
Go about your business and do what you want to do,
But don't forget your roots and high school, too.
Michael Hoyle

The day we realized how much we loved each other — Mike Lovett and Tenara Hruzek.

A Word From Our Sponsors
NEW
BUY

If you wanted the sky,
I would write across the sky.
In letters that would soar,
A thousand feet high,
From Dad with love.

I m a friend, who taught you,
Right from wrong.
And weak from strong,
That s a lot to learn.
But what can I give you in return?

If you wanted the moon,
I would try to make a start,
But I would rather
You let me give you my heart.
From Dad with love.

Roses are red,
Violets are blue.
We weren't sure you'd make it,
And neither were you.
With the joking aside,
Here you are ready to embark,
On the next chapter in your life.
Just remember-
That should you need anything,
I'll be by your side,
To ensure the stars
Remain in your sight!
Love, Patty

From your first day of school to your last,
Time just went by too fast.
From a little girl to a young lady,
Look out world here comes my baby!
Love, Meme

"You are my Sunshine"
With that first glimpse of your smile,
You were my baby; it seems,for only a short while.
May life show you kindness,patience, and grace,
In return the world will see the beauty you embrace,
Shannon, I could never be more proud of having a daughter.
Such as you
And my love will always follow...
Endlessley with you
"My only Sunshine"
Love, Mom

I think of my Shannon,
How can this be?
It seems so long ago,
You were just turning three.
So now you're grown up,
With a new life to explore.
You'll leave behind the familiar
To open a new door.
We all knew you could do it,
And now it is done.
When you believe in yourself,
The battle is won.
Whatever you do,
I know you'll do well,
When you have confidence and support,
You're sure to excel.
So what is my advise for one so young?
Work hard
Play well
And... don't let the dog bite your tongue,
I love you, Auntie Key

From the cute, shy little girl I first met,
To the beautiful confident young woman you have become.
I am so proud of you!
Love, Chuck

The years have passed so quickly;
you are our pride and joy.
We are so proud of you.
Thank you for filling our lives
with such happiness.
Follow your dreams and reach for the stars.

Love you, Mom,
Dad, Jenn, Josh,
and Kyle

You're On Your Way!
Congratulations-We Love
You!
Mom, Dad, Adam, and Lacie

It's meant so very much to us,
This time we've spent together,
All the experience and little tests
A family learns to weather
But through it all, our pride in you
Has grown beyond compare,
For we have found your charm and wit are very, very rare.

Always maintain your winning personality, friendliness, and confidence, and your future will be filled with success.
We are very proud of you and your many accomplishments.
Congratulations and best wishes for a happy future.
Keep "dancing & cheering" your way to success!
Love,
Mom, Dad, and Jeff

Daughter, You Are Special

Within you is an ideal,
a voice of youth,
and a promise of achievement
still to come.
Within your hands
are special gifts and talents.
Within your mind is the source of your dreams.
Within you is the strength to carry your dreams to completion.
Within your heart is the desire to meet the world on your own terms.
You are strong; your are wise;
you have a dream.
You have a spirit and confidence;
you have faith.
You are your own person,
and you always will be.
Within you is something
so precious and rare.
Within you is the promise of the future.

We are so proud of you.
Love, Mom and Dad

Sister, You Are Special

Carry the sun inside you, and reach out for the dreams that guide you,
You have everything you need to take you where you want to go.
You have abilities and talents and attributes that belong to you alone, and you have what it takes to make your path of success...lead to happiness.

You are the sunshine I look up to,
Love always, Kelsey

Hollie-

From the time you were a little girl taking your first step, to the day you were accepted to the college of your choice, you've always had that smile that seems to radiate you and the people around you. You have grown into a beautiful, loving person and in these times of turmoil our world needs more people like you. Live each day of your life in a way that makes you feel good about yourself and you will always be happy. That, we believe, is the secret to life. The rest is easy. We love you and are so proud of you and all that you have accomplished (pinky promise). May you always be happy.

Love,

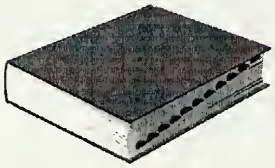
Good-bye & Good Luck From Faculty & Staff

Congratulations on a job well done!
~ Miss Carney

I hope your lives are full of many different roads to travel and you chose wisely.
~ Mr. Jackson



Peace
Save us from weak resignation to violence.
Teach us that restraint is the highest expression of power,
That thoughtfulness and tenderness are the mark of the strong.
Help us to love our enemies, not by countenancing their sins,
But by remembering our own. (Anonymous)
~ Mrs. Russell

Good Luck!
~ Mr. Duff and the History Department

Remember your social skills- they will lead you to success!
~ Mrs. Martin

My advice is to go everywhere, do everything, talk with everyone; life and learning are one and the same, so never stop doing both.
~ Mr. Plasko

Congratulations! Good Luck in the Future.
~Mrs. O'Donnell

Best Wishes!
~ Mrs. Young & Mrs. Ardanga

¡Buena suerte a todos!
~ Mrs. Mahoney

Good Luck to the Class of 2002.
~ Mr. & Mrs. Kieser

Shoot for the moon, you might land on a star! Good Luck Seniors!
~ Mrs. Linde

As Thomas Jefferson said "Peace and friendship with all mankind is our wisest policy, and I wish 'you' may be permitted to pursue it."
~ Mrs. Gagnon

Suivez vos rêves!
~ Mrs. Penza

"Charlie Brown: Next year I'm going to be a changed person.
Lucy: That's a laugh, Charlie Brown.
Charlie Brown: I mean it! I'm going to be strong and firm…
Lucy: Forget it…you'll always be wishy-washy!
Charlie Brown: Why can't I change just a little bit? (yelling) I'll be wishy one day and washy the next?"
May you continue to find new ways to grow in character.
~ Mr. Miller

Congratulations class of 2002. Reach for the Stars.
~ Mr. & Mrs. Farrell

Congratulations and Best Wishes.
~ Mr. Dery

Congratulations and Best Wishes!
~ Mrs. Hensley

Best wishes for a happy and productive future. Give something back to your community.
~ Mrs. Vital

Good Luck to Jenna and Amanda as well as the entire 2001 volleyball team.
~ Mr. Leddy

As Burrow likes to say, "Always follow your dreams, there may be a mole dollar waiting for you."
~ Mrs. Purdy

"Be the person you want others to think you are." (Socrates)
~ Mrs. Ito

Les deseo un futuro brillante a todos las estaelles de la clase de español IV que han iluminado nuestras momentas juntas. Espero que continùen practicando español por síempre.
Con mucho cariño.
~Mrs. Godfrey

Best Wishes.
~ Mr. & Mrs. Boucher

Good Luck Trouble, Emald, Bear, Twinkie, Taffy, Moxie, Cupcake, Baby, Francis, Shadow, Molly, Simon, Joey, Dolly, Danielle, Ginger, Oscar, Ashley, Earnie, and Fluffy!
~ Mr. Brassard

Best Wishes and Congratulations!
~ Mr. & Mrs. Holster

Best wishes to all!
~ Mrs. Mackinder

Remember to always be yourself and live life honestly:
"Say what you mean and mean what you say because those who mind don't matter and those who matter don't mind." (Dr. Seus)
~ Miss Hall

Do not let your future be "the development of the memory at the expense of the imagination."
~ Miss Clancy

To the Class of 2002,

What is a yearbook? Why make one and why bother to spend the time doing so? The yearbook is the culmination of twelve years together; of twelve years of camaraderie and friendship that have united us as a class and as peers. It is a collection of the past, a treasure chest of days gone by and a final testament to a reality that is now behind us.

Life is far from a film; it is a reality, one that we face everyday, and we face it armed only with that which we have learned. So, in saying farewell, we also wish to say good luck; bring with you all the tools that you have gathered here at Norton High School, from your teachers, your friends, and your experiences.

The staff of this year's yearbook has worked diligently to preserve as much of our particular movie as we possibly could. From the artwork, to the writing and the copy, down to the raising of money through the business staff, the yearbook has grown from a thought to a reality, just like any real movie. We would like to offer thanks to those students and teachers who dedicated their time, their effort, and their perseverance to make this dream a reality, as seen by the signatures surrounding this letter. The yearbook staff itself has faced many changes this year, as we say goodbye to long time yearbook advisor Miss Clancy, and welcome new yearbook advisor Miss Hall. This year's underclassmen staff will undoubtedly add to next year's yearbook and make it the best that they can.

Therefore, it is time to recognize that as we go our separate ways, we can look back on this yearbook and remember everything that has helped us get to where we are; the memories will never go away, so, if you ever feel nostalgic, just hit the rewind button.

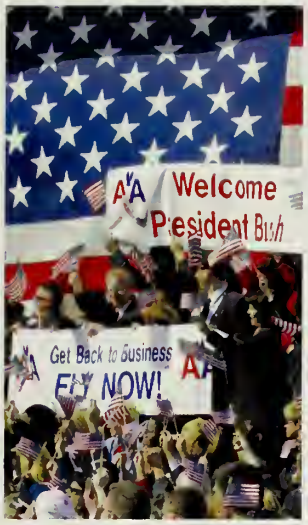
enduring FREEDOM

Tuesday, September 11, 2001, will be remembered as a tragic day that changed the world. That morning, a plot, masterminded by terrorist Osama bin Laden and the al-Qaeda network, was put into action. Two hijacked commercial airliners were flown into New York City's World Trade Center Towers, ultimately causing their collapse. Immediately following the incident, another hijacked airliner crashed into one side of the Pentagon in Washington, D.C, and a fourth plane crashed in Pennsylvania. Thousands of lives were lost, citizens were terrified and the world was in shock.

Following that mournful day the United States experienced anthrax scares, continued security threats and the reality of war. Despite the horror, fear and heartache, U.S. citizens united and their patriotic spirit soared. President Bush promised: "We will not tire, we will not falter, we will not fail." Through that statement and the remarkable sense of national pride exuded by U.S. citizens, it became evident that no threat, great or small, could deter the United States resolve for enduring freedom.

In response to the shocking tragedy, President George W. Bush addresses the nation offering strength, comfort and patriotism.



Ailing airlines urge citizens to defy terrorists' attempts to disrupt lives by reboarding airplanes.

Thousands of people world-wide donate blood and volunteer their services to aid U.S. recovery.

An overwhelming spirit of unity and national pride arises out of the smoldering ashes and human devastation from the September 11 attacks on the United States.
